This year, Community Initiatives executed 468 contracts totaling $6.1 million for leases, independent contractors, and MOUs.

44% of projects reported organizational improvements and/or improvements in their fundraising and finances.
In 2019, the team at Community Initiatives made a committed effort to introduce new audiences to the idea of fiscal sponsorship. Our staff participated in a number of national and local events, and we are more energized than ever by the potential for fiscal sponsorship to bolster success in the nonprofit sector! I participated in an American Bar Association panel discussion, entitled “Fiscal Sponsorship After 25 Years.” At this national tax attorney conference, I had the opportunity to share our vision for vibrant possibilities with fiscal sponsorship partners.

Our team is spending more time in the field than ever, building relationships and experiencing our impact in action. These relationships have become institutionalized with a powerful upgrade to our Salesforce system, where our team’s collective knowledge of the inner workings of every project has been recorded in one place. This highly individualized record is bolstered with personal calls that identify opportunities to strengthen each project and fine tune our support. As a result of the collective wisdom gathered, our centralized client services management system now ensures that our projects are always paired with the subject-matter expert best equipped to help them.

We have deepened our work with our independent evaluator, Research Evaluation Consulting, to provide actionable insights into our clients’ experiences. Our annual client survey reveals information about our community and their collective impact, which you will read about in this report’s snapshot.

In a major time-saving modernization, we upgraded our payroll system to Paylocity. Now online and with a mobile app, our 300+ employees can quickly submit timesheets, vacation requests, and supervisor approvals. New employees can now complete all onboarding forms paperlessly. The easy-to-use platform seamlessly connects our entire HR system, and integrates with other systems including Intacct (accounting) and Mutual of America (401k).

I am so proud of our team’s accomplishments and these major system improvements. We are all grateful for the opportunity to do our part to help make so many incredible missions possible.

Sincerely,

Ruth Williams, President and CEO
